2021 NCDCTA Volunteer of the Year Ellen Bradford

Written and presented by: Joan Hilsman

When you think of words to describe the ultimate volunteer, you think of words like hard working, dependable, efficient, mission oriented, and problem solver. All of these words apply to the 2021 recipient of the NCDCTA Volunteer of the Year, Ellen Bradford. I will not be sharing her contact number so you can steal her away!

Ellen stepped up to the plate to help fulfill a membership committee goal of promoting NCDCTA visibility and increasing membership, by manning the NCDCTA table set up at all six of the Carolina Horse Park War Horse 2021 Event Series events. She set up the tables with our banner and beautiful displays of the prizes and ribbons. She developed business cards with "How to Join" information & listed the benefits and tabulated the results from the event divisions to determine which NCDCTA members were Champion and Reserve. Ellen actively reached out to by standers to encourage them to join.

I am proud to present Ellen Bradford with the 2021 NCDCTA Volunteer of the Year Award.

If you Google Amanda Miller's name, you find descriptions like: Advanced Level Event Rider, USDF Bronze Medalist, USDF S Event Judge, FEI Level 2 Event Judge and Steward, USEA Certified Instructor, and last but certainly not least, NCDCTA President.

Amanda's role as President for the last five years and as a Board member for the past ten years has been as a problem solver, team leader, and most importantly, as a joy to work with!

A great example of all this was holding the NCDCTA Board together through the Covid crisis with monthly Zoom meetings. Amanda has well represented us at National USDF and Regional USDF MEETING throughout the past years. Among her many accomplishments during her presidency, she even got married!

Amanda, as your Vice President, I can say you have been a joy and so much fun to work with! Your smile and laugh are infectious! Thank you!
